

Arena project on hold pending funding confirmation

By Frank Ryan

A new arena for Drayton Valley has been put on hold.

Town council decided last Thursday to delay the project until the new municipal district confirms their participation and financial contributions.

George Berquist, chairman of the Community Centre Society was extremely pleased with council's decision. "It's what we wanted in the first place. It will give us more time to raise funds," he said.

Curling club president Bruce Clemmer says the delay shouldn't hurt them.

"We didn't expect to be ready until '89," Clemmer stated. "It will allow us more time for planning. We will keep fund-raising."

As far as the present curling rink is concerned,

Clemmer says it is structurally sound. Their only worry is major equipment failures.

The curling rink has been sold to the province, and the club has permission to stay in the facility until '90.

Councillor Tom McGee suggested the delay could be two or three years. "I can't see anything happening for some time," McGee explained. The new municipal district is scheduled to occur in January of '88. A decision on the boundaries is expected in the next week to 10 days.

In replying to an editorial in last week's paper Mayor Bob Mayhew said the town was talking about a new arena and outdoor ice. He indicated the town wasn't talking about anything else.

And, if $1.5 million was raised, another item mentioned in the editorial, the mayor indicated the town would address the problem when they got to that stage.

Councillor Charlie Miner felt it was important to get more information on the arena proposal out to the people. He was concerned about people's viewpoint.

In another move, council gave first reading to a motion that will see funds from the community, recreation and cultural (CRC) fund from 1987 to '92 go toward an arena.

Parents angry at doctors

Jamie's fight for life not over

By Carolyn Vesely

The parents of 12-year-old cancer patient Jamie Platz are angry at doctors who seem to want to send him home to die.

"We could accept it if Jamie were dying of cancer, but cancer isn't the issue here. It's his lungs causing the problems now," said Gail Platz.

Last November, Jamie went to the Cydel Clinic in Mexico as a last resort after doctors gave him less than a month to live.

There he underwent experimental treatment and had two tumors and water cysts removed from his brain and spinal cord.

However, breathing complications prompted an early return and he was placed in intensive care last month in Edmonton's Royal Alexandra Children's Pavilion.

Doctors recently moved Jamie to a general ward and are recommending he be transferred to Drayton Valley hospital for 'compassionate care'.

Gail said according to doctors, under compassionate care Jamie would not receive any antibiotics if he contracted pneumonia.

"It's making us angry that doctors could destine a child to die," she said. "We've had every reason to believe Jamie can pull through if he gets the right treatment."

"I don't mind if they transfer him to another ward, but I won't move him here (Drayton Valley)."

Although doctors said Jamie is paralyzed, deaf and totally blind, Gail said he is improving and calls their diagnosis "a bunch of malarkey."

He moves his arms and head during physiotherapy and appears to be trying to talk, she explained.

"If you go into his room and call his name, he looks right at you."

Gail said what Jamie really needs right now is a doctor, a lung specialist in particular, who cares about him as a person.

And while the issue is still 'up in the air,' she is ready to go to court to keep Jamie from being transferred.

"If the Lord is going to take Jamie, He'll take him no matter what they (doctors) do."

"But I'll be damned if I'll stand back and let the doctors take his life."

Local News Briefs

A Drayton Valley ambulance was gutted by fire Saturday at the site of a two-car collision four kilometres west of Wildwood.

The ambulance was attending to the accident when an apparent electrical fire caused smoke and flames to shoot from under the hood.

Attempts to extinguish the fire failed, said Evansburg RCMP Cpl. Jim Yzinsky.

Five people were treated in Drayton Valley hospital following the collision. There were no injuries caused by the ambulance fire.

Yzinsky said the collision occurred when a vehicle stopped on Highway 16 to turn south on Landing Road.

A second vehicle travelling west on the highway struck the rear of the first vehicle.

The three people in the first vehicle were treated and released from hospital. The two occupants of the second vehicle remain in hospital in good condition. The names have not been released.

The victims were taken to hospital by a second ambulance.

Traffic on Highway 16 was held up for approximately 1½ hours following the collision and ambulance fire, Yzinsky said.

"The quick thinking of the people at the scene prevented a possible disaster."

Drayton Valley RCMP report a number of thefts and break-ins over the past week.

Currently under investigation is a theft from a drilling rig near Cynthia. A number of tools and other items have been reported missing.

A second drilling rig has reported the theft of a Betamax from its push back.

A break-in at Selcan Systems last week resulted in the theft of a microwave, kitchen and chairs, and other items.

RCMP report that thieves broke into a local bodyshop and stripped down a 1977 Transam.

Finally, RCMP are investigating a case west of Cynthia where a service rig was moved about 100 yards, causing considerable damage.

Mel Hurtig guest speaker

Free trade deal not a free lunch

Mel Hurtig expresses his concerns about free trade at the recent dinner held in Drayton Valley.

By Carolyn Vesely
The federal government's free trade package is being touted as a 'free lunch' for Canadians, but will the hidden price be our sovereignty?

"So far, we've only heard about the benefits," said Canadian nationalist and publisher Mel Hurtig during a visit to Drayton Valley last Wednesday.

Hurtig, guest speaker at the first annual Pembina Education Society dinner, talked to an audience of about 80 people about the negative consequences of Canada signing a free trade deal with the United States.

Born and raised in Edmonton, he left a 25-year bookstore business in 1982 to begin a career in publishing and has since won numerous awards, including Canadian Publisher of the Year in 1975 and 1981.

In 1985, Hurtig published The Canadian Encyclopedia, a $12 million project that involved 5,000 people and took nearly six years to complete.

Also in 1985, he formed The Council of Canadians, an organization dedicated to preserving Canadian economic, cultural and political sovereignty.

During the past 15 years, Hurtig has spoken in every province about excess foreign ownership and the development of the Canadian economy.

And since 1985, he has been a familiar figure in the news as an outspoken opponent of free trade with the U.S.

"Not one elected government representative has explained the costs of free trade, to the agricultural or service sectors, for example," said Hurtig. "They haven't told us (Canadians) what the Americans will want in return."

Hurtig explained that when Canada had its $20 million trade surplus, it asked for access to U.S. markets of 242 million people and in exchange, offered the U.S. access to Canadian markets of 25½ million people.

"The U.S. started looking closely at that."

The benefits to Canadians like cheaper clothing, microwaves and TVs will be dwarfed by the losses, he explained.

In exchange for guaranteed access to its markets, the U.S. wants guaranteed access to Canada's natural resources and service sectors, he said, adding American companies want the 'National Treatment', — to be treated as equals with Canadian ones.

"They want an agreement, in writing, that there will be no more barriers to foreign ownership," Hurtig said. "There is to be no more complaints from the north that too much of Canada is already foreign-owned."

Hurtig told the group, according to statistics (1983), 45.6 per cent of Canada's profits went to non-Canadians.

Non-Canadians took 62.2 per cent of profits from Alberta alone.

"No other country comes close to that," he said.

Hurtig said that according to U.S. free trade ambassador, Peter Murphy, if Canada wants this deal, it has to play by U.S. rules.

"It wouldn't really be free trade," he said, "it would be one big step toward economic union with the U.S."

Most people want to wait until they know more about the free trade issue before doing anything about it, but with the government's 'fast track legislation', it can't wait until the next election, Hurtig warned.

"Mulroney is likely to announce in September that an excellent agreement with the U.S. has been reached, even though he hasn't told all the premiers about it yet," he said.

The federal government has earmarked $12.7 million for a massive advertising campaign to sell the idea of free trade to Canadians during the next few months, Hurtig told the group, advising people to learn "a lot more about the fact that the future of Canada is going to be on the table in the next nine months."

"If we sign this secret agreement in a rush, we'll be giving away the greatest resource we have — not our oil, natural gas or forests, but our ability as Canadians to decide our own future."

Shangri-La bus fund-raiser

Bowl-a-thon happening on the weekend

Twilight Bowl and the Legion Hall are where the action will be this weekend as the Shangri-La bowl-a-thon gets underway to raise funds for a bus for the lodge's residents.

Coordinator Gail Biedler reports 75 teams are slated to bowl for bus bucks and urges supporters to come and cheer on their favorite team.

The bowl-a-thon kicks off Saturday, May 2 with a brunch at 9 a.m. in the Legion Hall featuring bacon, sausages, eggs, pancakes and toast prepared by Legion members and Shangri-La staff.

Everyone who buys a ticket for the brunch will be eligible to win prizes such as a quilt, camera, clock or stuff toy.

In between games, bowlers and spectators can return to the Legion to enjoy the day's schedule of entertainment.

At 11 a.m., the Drayton Valley Pipers will perform and will also escort the celebrity bowlers to the Twilight Bowl in time for their noon game.

The Rocky Mountain House Kitchen Band will be on stage back at the Legion at 1 p.m. followed by country singer Dave Marco at 2 p.m. Entertainment will continue until 9 p.m. and include the Shangri-La Kitchen Band, The DV Entertainers and country gospel band, God's Country.

The $60,000 bus is equipped with tie-downs, handrails and a hydraulic lift for wheelchairs.

It also has a P.A. system, individual lighting and ventilation controls for each seat and air bags under the tires to make for a smoother ride.

Bowling action will run from 1 p.m. to about midnight Saturday and again on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Proceeds from the bowl-a-thon will go toward the purchase of a bus, designed to accommodate the needs of senior citizens.

Free coffee and donuts will be available throughout the day.

Ed Maclean looks over rows of bedding out plants in one of his three greenhouses at Pembina Rivers Nurseries. He advises gardeners to wait until after May 15 to start planting.

Local nursery ready for big rush

By Carolyn Vesely
Now that spring has more or less sprung, gardening enthusiasts will soon be taking hoes in hand and hitting the flowerbeds and gardens.

And with 23,000 trays of bedding out plants, 6,000 petunias and a shipment of shrubs and trees on the way, Ed Maclean, owner of the Pembina Rivers Nurseries, is prepared.

Maclean said it's usually too early to start planting until after May 15, but added it's sometimes hard to tell with the unpredictable weather.

"Last year at that time we had eight inches of snow on the ground," he said.

As for trees, Maclean said "if you can dig, you can plant them."

He is expecting an arrival of shrubs and trees within the next few weeks which will include spruce, cedar, junipers and flowering crabapple.

"There's a terrific variety of apple trees in Alberta now," said Maclean. "There used to be only two but now there's about 15 or 20 types of eating apples such as Patterson and Harrison."

Also in stock by May 15 will be Mother's Day roses, imported from Holland. Roses usually come from California but there was a shortage this year, he explained, so the price will be slightly higher.

During his eight years in the nursery business, Maclean said petunias have definitely been the most popular bedding out plant and by the first week of June, they're usually sold out.

The Pembina Rivers Nurseries also has a variety of indoor plants and hanging pots such as the potluck cucumber which can be hung on the patio and makes a great salad.

Hours of business at the nursery are 8 to 5 seven days a week, but Maclean said "that's a farce" because he usually doesn't get rid of customers until at least 10 p.m.

He also serves as full time 'plant and tree doctor,' giving advice to 'green' thumbs.

"I repeat myself about 100 times a day giving advice," he said. "It's a young generation out here."

A common problem gardeners come across is having houses that face north and trying to find out what will grow in the shade, Maclean said.

As of May 4, he will be selling his wares in the Derek Mall from Monday to Saturday.

Kinsmen

Profits to go to complex

By Steve Fletcher
Most of the proceeds from this year's Kinsmen Club men's and ladies' nights will go toward the building of the new complex.

The club hopes to raise approximately $10,000 for the project, says ladies' night committee co-chairman Ron Link.

This year's ladies' night, scheduled for May 12, will include a fashion show that won't soon be forgotten, Link added.

Prizes will include a $3,800 fur coat (to be won at a midnight draw) and six trips to the Fantasyland Hotel at West Edmonton Mall.

Such Good Friends, a two-piece comedy band from Kelowna, will be providing the entertainment for the second year in a row.

"They're a very talented band," said Ken Shewchenko, the other co-chairman. "Last year they had them dancing on the tables."

The master of ceremonies for the night will be Mark Connelley from K-97 radio.

Tickets will go on sale this week for the event, which includes a three-course dinner and centres around a game show-like theme, Link said.

The tables are numbered to ensure seats with friends, said Shewchenko.

Meanwhile, men's night takes place tomorrow night (April 29) at the Legion Hall. Trips for two to Las Vegas are the major prizes.

Men's night committee chairman Terry Drader said the entertainment package will include performances by a female comedian.

Men's night has been held for the last four or five years and usually sells out, he added.

Chamber update

The chamber of commerce sponsored tourist booth will operate independently this summer.

Last Thursday council decided to pay $750 to join the Battle River Tourist Association. But before that is finalized, it has to get approval from a provincial tourist board.

Councillor Jean Saunders said that isn't expected until June.

As a result the booth, which is scheduled to open next month, will have to make do without any Battle River information. They will also be without the usual Evergreen brochures, following a decision to withdraw from that Highway 16 based organization.

Charlie Miner was the only member of town council to vote against joining Battle River. He didn't feel the new Evergreen executive had been given a fair chance.

Money was a big factor in changing tourist associations. Evergreen had upped their per capita membership fee to $1 while Battle River charges 15 cents per capita.

Drayton Valley to feel 'bite' of spraying cutback

It appears that Drayton Valley residents will be in for another swatting good time this summer.

Swatting mosquitoes that is. And, it will be anything but a good time.

The town engineer reported in last week's issue, that mosquitoes are not a problem here. So, the town never applied for a grant under the Biting Fly Control financial assistance program.

"The program costs more money than it's worth," the engineer stated.

It would be interesting to know where the engineer hides during the summer.

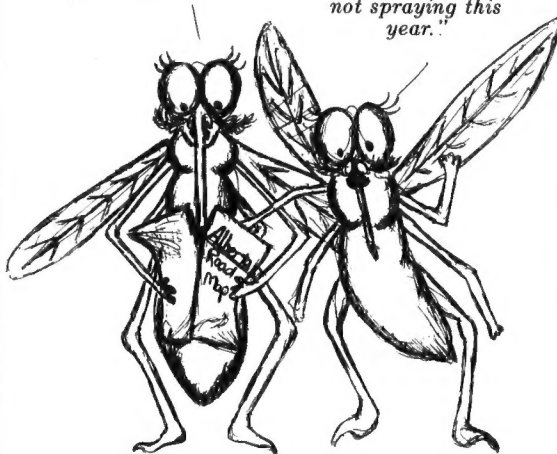

It's rather unfortunate that the town didn't apply for the grant, as our summers are short enough, and having to stay indoors because of those pesky mosquitoes, is unfair.

One solution, short of installing a mosquito-proof dome over your yard or finding a spray that really works, is phoning the engineer, mayor or councillor, every time one gets bit. A couple million phone calls later, and the town might consider the discomfort some people are going through.

We agree that spraying won't get rid of all those pesky little mosquitoes, but it certainly couldn't hurt. And, especially when the province is making $952,259 available, it's sad the powers to be didn't make an effort to try and do something.

"Where you wanna go for lunch?"

How 'bout Drayton Valley? I hear they're not spraying this year."

Flames extinguished — next bet Flyers

Now that the best team in the NHL, namely the Flames, are out of the playoffs (can't you just hear the giant sigh of relief in Alberta's capital)...our next choice are the Flyers. But, they better watch out for those never-say-die Islanders.

One of the best games you'll ever see, was the fourth overtime Islanders' 3-2 win over Washington. The six-hour tilt kept us armchair quarterbacks on the edge of our seats all night. It was unfortunate someone had to lose.

Sometimes it's fun how things work out in sports. In '81 when the Red Deer Rustlers won the western Centennial Cup final over the Prince Albert Raiders, Islander coach Terry Simpson was the Raiders' coach and Pratt Suttar was the Rustlers' top scorer. To day, they're both on the same team. And, Hockey Night in Canada broadcaster Ron MacLean was in the CKRD/Red Deer broadcast booth.

I'm looking forward to the Shangri La Lodge bowl-a-thon on Saturday, May 2.

One team of celebrities to bowl at 12 noon will include Mayor Bob Mayhew, MLA Shirley Cripps, chamber president Marty Prentice, fire chief Sheldon Fuson, RCMP Staff Sgt. Les Bannerman and yours truly. Another team will be made up of presidents from the Knights of Columbus, Kinsmen, Elks, Lions, Legion and Masons. The opposition will be provided by teams from the Lodge.

A lot of work has gone into this event, and we're hoping that all the aforementioned 'celebrities' will make every effort to come out. It's just one game and promises to be a lot of fun for a very worthwhile cause.

Truthfully, I would rather participate in something like this for the good of the community, than give a straight cash handout.

By the way, I'm still looking for sponsors. So, if you want to bet on a sure thing, the loan for sponsors starts in front of my desk.

Bunny banter insufficient Easter coverage, writer says

Dear Editor,

I was disappointed in the Easter edition of The Western Review, April 14. There was no Easter greeting, other than an Easter greeting from Bunykins.

Easter is a Christian festival and Drayton Valley is very interested in their church and church life, or why would the United Church build an addition, the Roman Catholic Church build a new building? The Church of Latter Day Saints have built a church and hall, the Baptists are building an addition onto the church. The Church of God has celebrated their 75th anniversary and the Anglican Church are celebrating their 50th anniversary this year; the Fellowship Church showed a Billy Graham movie at the theatre; the Roman Catholics are showing 'Jesus Christ, Superstar'. Likely other churches have activities I do not know about.

There was no mention of church services, other than paid "ads" in our paper of Easter week. A few services were mentioned in the April 7 edition. Surely we could have had an "Alleluia, Christ is Risen."

I am not complaining about the paper as a whole, I know it is not easy to please everyone. I think Frank Ryan is doing an excellent job and I enjoy working with him.

Happy Easter to all
Winnie Hammerlin!

Westlock hosts are thanked

Dear Editor,

The Town of Westlock hosted the provincial bantam B tournament on April 3, 4, and 5 and hosted the Drayton Valley Norsette Oilers in this tournament.

I would like to personally thank all the players, coaches, and parents of each individual team for participating in our weekend and for providing us with an excellent entertainment.

Writer says
Local businesses not all bad

Dear Editor,

I would like to compliment Kelly Stephenson on voicing his/her concern about poor service from one of our businesses in Drayton Valley.

As a local businessman, I would also like to praise Kelly on his/her pride in Drayton Valley and support of local business.

It takes people like this to weed out poor business scruples.

As a balm to Kelly's wounded pride, I would like ing weekend of hockey.

The championship game was won by the Peace River Sabres, the silver medal won by the Westlock Warriors and the semi-finalists were the Marwayne Legion and the Innisfail Electric. The most sportmanlike team was a very close vote between the Taber Elks and the Drumheller Caps with the Taber Elks being awarded the plaque.

It is an honor to host the provincial tournament and it was enjoyable to work with such enthusiastic and well-behaved hockey players and coaches, and I would like to express my gratitude for their participation.

Yours sincerely, to dispel some of the disillusion. And to Kelly's advisors who suggested taking the car to Edmonton for servicing, I would like to say that may not have been the right advice.

The possibility of falling into the hands of disreputable businesses in Edmonton is just as great, if not greater, than in Drayton Valley.

It is highly unlikely you would receive the same personalized service you get in Drayton Valley in a large city, especially if you are a non-resident.

There are a number of automotive businesses in Drayton Valley who practice very reputable business conduct.

These businesses do spend the time and money to upgrade their knowledge and facilities to keep up with the latest advancements in technology.

How do salespeople find buyers?

(INC) - You will often hear it said that 20 percent of all real estate salespeople make 80 percent of all real estate sales. What's the secret? While working hard is certainly a partial explanation, working smarter is probably more accurate. In working smarter: It's those salespeople who know how to track down buyers for their listings. Most salespeople rely on "flood time" or "office duty" to provide leads. That is, each salesperson spends a portion of his or her week handling all of the general enquiries and walk-in traffic to the office for that period. But the truly successful salespeople are always on the lookout for buyers from all sources.

First, from their own contracts - referrals from satisfied customers, previous buyers and from people who already have their houses up for sale. Next, when salespeople canvass for listings they should also be looking for buyers. Neighborhood people are also prime buyers. If they already live there they must like the area and have put down roots.

Business contacts from referral networks, moving and storage firms, personnel offices, motels and hotels, and major employers in the area are also good sources. It all seems so obvious. Yet only a few - the successful salespeople do it on a regular basis. What does this mean to the homeowner who may want to sell? When listening to salespeople who want to list and sell your home - find out how they will prospect for buyers for your house. If they don't have the answers in their presentation to you it is doubtful if the buyers will come by at some later date.

Defend your ID

Improvement District councilors and administration made it loud and clear they are opposed to including an option area in the formation of a proposed municipal district.

"Everybody should be interested in this," council Chairman Arnold Jorgenson told Peers residents at their annual ratepayers meeting.

The proposal, spearheaded by Drayton Valley MLA Shirley Cripps, includes parts of Parkland, Leduc and Wetaskiwin counties along with the Municipal District of Clearwater and ID 14 and would lump the areas into one district east to Lindale, north to Tomahawk, south to Alder Flats and west to Lodgepole.

"This started out of discontent of people at the east end of the County of Parkland not receiving all the services they thought they should," Jorgenson explained. "Someone in Edmonton is trying to pay a political debt and she's (Cripps) going to pay it," Councilor Ken Albrecht added.

Municipal affairs proposed a core area as far west as Lodgepole which ID Manager Brian Irmen says would increase ratepayers' taxes by less than five per cent if expenditures remained the same. But the province also left the door open for an option area bordering secondary roads 624 and 611 to the north and south and Wolf Lake to the west.

"What we're talking about is a 20 per cent loss of assessment (20 per cent of ID's ability to generate revenue)," Irmen stated. "These guys want to come here and rape us and take it away," Albrecht commented.

Irmen explained the inclusion of the option area is seen as a ploy to take a strong industrial tax base without the burden of providing essential services. "They're getting tax revenue without service responsibility," he says. "It's gravy."

Councillor Albrecht would not even go as far as recognizing an information report, prepared by the municipal services branch of Alberta Municipal Affairs as a document, stating it's laced with innuendo and bias.

In quoting from the report justifying a 20 per cent hike in municipal taxes Albrecht says statements like "this is on account of the very low level of taxation currently enjoyed by ID 14 taxpayers" is not a reasonable comparison, the proverbial apples and oranges. "I sat on the court of revision (tax assessment appeals) and no one asked to raise their taxes."

The Improvement District left a strong message with ratepayers that only public support, through letters to MLAs (Reid and Trynchy) and Municipal Affairs Minister Neil Crawford, is going to get the province's attention. "If we don't voice our opinion they're going to take it," Arnold Jorgenson added. — Edson Leader

No new county

Editor's Note: The following editorial comment was taken from the March 23, 1977 issue of The Western Review.

"The result of these discussions has been that no action be taken on the commission's recommendations until a more thorough review is made. In short, no action will be taken at this time on the committee's recommendations."

These words from Minister of Municipal Affairs Dick Johnston, mean there will be no new County of Drayton, Valley in 1977, perhaps never.

The words, and the letter in which they are found, must be taken as an indication that municipalities should plan their 1977 budgets and elections on the basis of existing boundaries.

Why else would the letter have been written? If we take any other meaning from these words, the letter tells us nothing we did not already know or could not guess.

Still, the indication should be made more specific. The municipalities are now planning their budgets and they need specifics more than indications.

The minister's statement that the new county proposal will be reviewed is slight hope for those who favor the proposal. Possible boundaries for a new county and the effect of the loss on surrounding municipalities already have been studied by an independent committee. Views on both sides of the proposal have been expressed repeatedly to the committee and the government.

The study to be done now is more one of political impact than one of possible boundaries and effects of loss. The longer it takes, the less likely is acceptance of the proposed County of Drayton Valley.

No boundary is permanent. Some day the boundary of the County of Parkland will change. But major changes will not come soon.

Municipal councils affected by the proposal to establish a County of Drayton Valley should get on with the job of managing their municipalities as they exist now.

Toughlove still needed?

By Carolyn Vesely
If the dwindling interest in Drayton Valley's Toughlove parent support group is any indication, families must have fewer problems in the spring or be solving them on their own.

Since its inception last January, participation has dropped from an initial 22 participants to about eight, too few to keep it running during the summer.

"It's getting into spring and things are winding down," said Toughlove convenor Herb Heinemann. "We're not going to operate this summer like last year."

Toughlove is a worldwide organization, for parents of teenagers with behavior problems, from skipping school to drug and alcohol abuse.

It operates on a crisis intervention approach, Heinemann explained. He started the program here with his wife.

The Heinemanns' interest in Toughlove stemmed from behavior problems they experienced with their own children.

"The group functions only as a support. The family has to solve its problems on its own," Heinemann said.

He explained the Toughlove theory asks for a lot of change, mostly subtle changes on behalf of the parents who must "take charge of their own lives."

"Quit blaming cops, teachers and other kids," he said. "If you try to figure out who's at fault, you'll never deal with the problem."

One component of Toughlove is that parents learn to make some demands on their kids and offer them a choice — follow the rules or live elsewhere.

"Sometimes kids leave and tell their friends 'I got kicked out,' when leaving was actually the choice they made," said Heinemann.

When it comes to social acceptance of the Toughlove program, he said the hardest thing is to convince some professionals such as mental health services and school teachers, that it has validity.

"Their (professionals') training suggests problems could be solved best by professional means such as doctors or counsellors.

We're just saying we're another resource."

People who could benefit from Toughlove shy away from it for a number of reasons, Heinemann said.

He explained there have been people who didn't return for a second meeting because they didn't get an immediate solution to their problems. Others are just embarrassed to talk among strangers.

"Once they get there, they find out everyone has the same problems," Heinemann said. "It's often difficult for relatives to understand; you have to talk to someone who went through the same thing."

Lodgepole group

In planning stages

Lodgepole residents elected an executive last week as a first step towards establishing a community association.

President Daniel Walton, elected by acclamation, said the process has begun to have the new group incorporated under the provincial Societies Act.

At the top of the Lodgepole Community Association's priority list is the creation of a playground.

The village's abandoned school is targeted by the group as the ideal location for such a facility, and it plans to lobby the County of Parkland Board of Education for the right to lease it, said Walton.

The community group is hoping to secure a token $1 a month lease from the board.

Walton added that the playground was the "driving force" behind the birth of the association.

Next on the priority list is the setting up of either a slo-pitch team or a small league in Lodgepole.

Walton stressed that the association is looking to activate more community projects in the area.

Other members of the executive include Gail Congo (vice-president), Chris Baker (secretary), and Olga Baker (treasurer).

The executive meets for the first time this week to discuss dates for monthly meetings of the new group.

So far, approximately 25 residents have signed up as members of the community association, Walton said.

The 19th Hole

Summer Hummer
By Frank Pavlick
Canada's Sports Poet
Hello again, get out the clubs and polish up the shoes.
It's time to think about the course and make some golfing news.
So we've been shaky in the past, that's neither there nor here.
Instead of being perfect, why let's golf for one more year.

Forget those small distractions like the lightning and the rain.

Look at the extra practice and experience we gain.

So what if someone laughed a bit when you destroyed your club.

Or that your trophy read "The One and Only-MASTER FLUB".

What of the birdie on the 9th that went right to your head.

Then disappeared into the trees, la sea gull someone said.

Get out and do the little tricks that really cannot be.

Like making balls go backwards when you're standing on the tee.

It's hard to put three golfing shots into one water hole.

Then balance all those lucky balls with that long fishing pole.

Yes, many things to reminisce, old news from shots gone by.

But each year is a brand new ball, tee off and let 'er fly.

Birchwood Village Greens, formerly Lindale, is now open for business. To book a tee off time call 542-3400.

The new $8,000 driving range at Wetaskiwin is expected to be ready by the end of the month. And, a new putting green should be useable in September.

Plans are underway for a 18-hole miniature course at Whitecourt. The unnamed developer and town council are currently looking at possible locations.

An invitational tournament will be held in Wetaskiwin June 11 followed by their ladies' open June 27.

Coaches take to the field during the clinic.

Pre-Level 1

Local soccer coaches take advantage of clinic

By Steve Fletcher
A soccer coaches' clinic at H.W. Pickup school drew 100 per cent attendance from this year's crop of minor league coaches.

Lasting five hours, the Pre-level 1 clinic provided both experienced and neophyte coaches with classroom and on-field instruction.

The clinic, held on the weekend, is one of the advantages to belonging to the Alberta Soccer Association, said Simon Kelly, president of the local soccer society.

"Joining the ASA is the best thing we've ever done."

The Drayton Valley league became a member of the ASA this year following donations from the town and the Royal Canadian Legion.

It means perks like coaches and referees clinics and soccer camps along with chances to travel will be available to the 186 kids who will be playing minor soccer this season, said Kelly.

Kelly added that, through the ASA, the league will be experimenting with mini-soccer rules.

Reducing the size of the field, the length of the net, and the number of players, will give the younger members a "greater chance of playing with the ball," he explained.

Kelly, goaltender for Drayton Valley United, believes that through programs like mini-soccer and the recreational league more people will be drawn to the sport.

"Too many people are intimidated by soccer, and are scared to get involved...this way they can see just how easy it is."

"Everyone can run and everyone can kick."

Drayton Valley minor soccer begins May 5 and continues to the end of June.

A travelling team for those 10 years of age and under is planned to run through the summer months.

Randy McQuaig has earned a trip to the nationals this weekend in Cornwall, Ontario.

The Derrick Club boxer won two fights in the 125-pound class at the provincials in Edmonton last weekend and was also Deer last Saturday, and following the show sold her horse, Poco Bar Hornet. Current Canadian barrel racing champion Gayle Howes and Deanna McMillan bought the 10-year-old horse jointly.

As a result of the sale, Tuftin has no immediate plans to get back on the pro circuit, although she may ride in some of the rodeos close to home. Instead, Tuftin plans to look to training barrel racing horses.

Selling Poco Bar Hornet was a hard thing to do Tuftin admitted, but it was a tremendous weight off her shoulders. Tuftin, who was sitting in 10th place in the barrel racing standings prior to Red Deer, values the friendships she made.

She won't be far away from the sport, as she is busy writing a book. And, Tuftin plans to ride on the Wild Rose circuit.

selected as the best junior C fighter and won the junior all-around award.

McQuaig, who went to the nationals in Whitehorse last year, will be travelling east with the Alberta team.

Both McQuaig and Carl Schmidt (95-pound class) won two fights each at the provincials and they were joined in the winner's circle by Shawn Harden, who just had to fight once to win the 85-pound class. Ronnie Olson lost out in the 105-pound class.

Three provincial titles is the best showing ever by the Derrick Boxing Club.

Norette Oilers win the division

The Norette Oilers capped off a busy year by winning the B division at a recent 32-team bantam hockey tournament in Calgary.

The Oilers, who played close to 60 games this season, played five games at Calgary, coming home with a 4-1 win/loss record and the B title.

Jason Kipling and Bryan Everett had two goals each in the final as Norette dumped Summerland, B.C. 9-3. Chris Hutchinson, Alan MacKenzie, Shaun Tucker, Roland Polsfut and Trevor Fedorus had singles. MacKenzie also collected three assists as the Oilers led 6-0 after the first and 7-2 after 40 minutes.

Norette lost their opening game 5-3 to the Clearwater (B.C.) Vikings. Fedorus had two goals in that loss with Polsfut adding the other. The Vikings scored four third-period goals en route to the win.

Polsfut and Hutchinson had two-goal games as Norette downed the 7-Club Colts of Calgary in their semifinal.

Marathon to be held May 18

With less than four weeks remaining before the Examiner Half-Marathon hits the streets, the entries are starting to trickle in.

Race spokesman Roy McConnell said "they are starting to come in. We have about 15 entries so far, which is pretty good."

"We're looking for local competitors this year, not so much in the marathon part of the race, but in the relay race portion. We feel the people in the community and area are capable of running that."

The half-marathon race is made up of three loops of the circuit, covering 4.4 miles per round.

Entry forms for the event, which goes this year on Monday, May 18, are available at The Examiner office in Spruce Grove.

For further information contact Roy McConnell at 962-8128 (res.) or 963-5035 (bus.).

Devils hockey Mr. Popularity

Tim Allen is the 'fans' choice' as the most popular member of the Devils hockey team.

Allen received the award at the club's recent windup banquet and dance.

Chad Allen and Trent Panfiliuk split the team's most valuable player award. And, Allen also won the top scorer award, as he led the way in the Heritage Junior B Hockey League.

Sheldon Dunham and Kevin Hutchinson were both selected as the best defencemen with Darren Pedorus and Mike Benoit sharing the coaches' award. The rookie award went to newcomer Robin Cockwell.

The Devils chalked up an impressive 30-2 win/loss record in the northern division during the regular season. Then, they needed seven games to eliminate the stubborn Bearhead Elks and defeated the Rimbeys Weststars in the league final.

As the provincials, they managed a 3-2 win/loss record.

Hockey schools program starts in July

Canadian Professional Hockey Schools will be introducing their Accelerated Hockey Development Program for two weeks in Edmonton from July 19-31.

The first week will be reserved for players of above average ability from ages 11 to 14 and the second week will be reserved for top calibre players from ages 15 to 26 who are interested in furthering their hockey careers through university education. The Accelerated Hockey Development Program will also be conducted in Calgary for two weeks from Aug. 27 reserved for players ages 11 to 14 and Aug. 9-14 reserved for players 15 to 26.

In addition to the Accelerated Hockey Development Program for players of above average ability, the Canadian Professional Hockey Schools will also be conducting their regular hockey school for players and goaltenders between the ages of five and 55. Adult and female hockey players of all ages are welcome to participate. In Calgary there will also be an evening program of power skating, shooting and games.

The instructors will be Walt Kyle, assistant coach Northern Michigan University; Billy Ries, assistant coach to Herb Brooks at St. Cloud State University; Vaughn Karpan, member of the Canadian Olympic team; Ron Chyzowski, graduate of Northern Michigan University, property of Hartford Whalers of the NHL. Lyle Mast, goaltender instructor extraordinaire, will conduct a full-time goalie hockey school at both locations.

For a free brochure and application, write to Box 8882, Edmonton T6H 4W6 or phone 435-9531; or phone the Sherwood Park Recreation Department, 467-2211. In Calgary, write to Box 8636, Postal Station F, Calgary, T2J 5S4 or phone 261-2219 or you may phone directly to the Okotoks Recreation Centre 929-9004.

Hockey season

Planning starts for next year

By Frank Ryan

The Drayton Valley Minor Baseball Association is gearing up for another hectic season.

A new mite division has been added for players eight and under. They will play four inning games on a smaller than usual field.

A mite, mosquito, beaver, bantam and midget tournament will be held the weekend of June 12 to 14. And the association will host the beaver provincials and the mosquito inter-zone playoffs.

It will cost more to play ball this year. For insurance reasons midgets will pay an additional $10 with beavers paying $2 more and mosquitoes an extra $1. Adults involved in the program will be required to pay $18.50. The additional costs are mandatory.

Team tryouts are scheduled for this week with the bantams meeting tonight (Tuesday), 6:30 p.m. at diamond 6 at West Valley Park. Mites will also meet tonight, 6:30 p.m. on diamond 8 (north Eldorado school). On Wednesday, the midgets will meet at 6 p.m. on diamond 1 (West Valley Park).

To help kick-off the season a baseball coaches' and umpires' clinic will be held this Saturday and Sunday. There's no charge. Interested participants are asked to be at St. Anthony's school at 9 a.m. Saturday. A two-day school for girls is also being planned in the near future.

Despite all the changes, there's a couple of things that won't change.

Mickey McDowell, who has done a tremendous job with minor ball, will return as president. Joining him for another year will be vice-president George Bergquist.

A standing room crowd that turned out for a general meeting and registration last Thursday heard the association had $5,042 in the bank. Registration fees last year totalled $3,472 while the Western Canadian finals cost $1,699.

No football team will be fielded this year.

No football team

Drayton Valley will not field a team in the Alberta Senior Men's Football League this summer.

Bruce Clemmer, head coach of the team last year, says a lack of organizers and players, resulted in the club not meeting a March 15 league deadline.

Clemmer feels that three Calgary teams, Red Deer and Coronation will make up the league this year.

Last year's team was made up mostly by players from Rocky Mountain House and Edson, who had joined forces and selected Drayton Valley as their base, because of its location between the two centres. Clemmer says about 10 local players came out initially; four of those were regulars.

Last year the players put up $250 each plus their travelling expenses. The team operated on a $15,000 budget.

Local boxer returns

It has been dubbed 'The Homecoming', and tickets for the event are now on sale in Spruce Grove.

Kelly Perlette's return to action inside a boxing ring in the city comes on Saturday, May 23 at 7 p.m., when he tangles with Les (The Polish Prince) Wisniewski in a battle of middleweights, that could see Perlette gain a Canadian ranking with a victory.

Going into the fight, Perlette is unbeaten (4-0), while the Calgary fighter holds an 11-4 record.

Also on the card will be welterweights Jimmy Cheung and Stan Cunningham of Edmonton.

featherweights Clinton Hannan of Fort St. John, B.C. and Reg Johnson of Calgary; and welterweights Caspar Bonanno of Edmonton against John Peinold of Calgary. Another unconfirmed bout will also be on the card.

Tickets, which are $12 across the board, are available at the Grove Motor Inn, Jack Daniel's, the Ticket Centre in the Co-Op Mall, the Grove Examiner office, Boston Pizza and Beaco Pizzeria.

The first 500 tickets sold will be for ringside, all others afterwards are for bleacher seating. The fights take place at the Spruce Grove Argrena (West).

Changes in baseball made

There will be a couple of major changes on the local senior baseball scene this summer.

Harold Reinhart, president of the Oilfield Baseball League for the past three years, won't be returning.

And a new chain-link fence is being installed at the senior diamond in West Valley Park.

Reinhart says a league meeting will likely be held within the next 10 days to see what teams are interested, and to find a new president.

On the football scene, the Evergreen loop was scheduled to start yesterday (Monday) with five teams for sure, and maybe seven. Penney's, Free's, Gardine Lake, Last Chance and the Knights have confirmed their entry. The question marks are Warburg and Buck Lake.

Penney's will be minus three starters from their championship squad. And that number could increase to four if Murray Carefoot Sr. sticks to his retirement plans.

Carefoot played a key role in Penney's success last year when he came out of retirement with Penney's supporting a 0-5 win/loss record early in the year.

The Drayton Valley ladies' football league will field eight teams. They have set May 5 to start league play.

On the slo-pitch scene, league organizer Stan Zimmerman reports 20 teams have expressed an interest in the May 16-18 tournament. Of those, nine have paid. Zimmerman would like 24 teams.

Meanwhile, 36 teams have signed up for league play, four more than last year. Besides organising and playing slo-pitch Zimmerman is involved with Edmonton Aurora, who will play in the Sunburst Baseball League this summer. Zimmerman hopes to get some junior players from this area to play on the team. Anyone interested should call him at 542-5020.

Cancer ride deadline

Horse enthusiasts are reminded they have until Thursday to sign up for the May 9 trail ride to raise money to help fight cancer.

The ride commences at 9 a.m. Sunday and will follow a scenic route along the North Saskatchewan River.

Signs with directions will be posted.

Coordinator Colleen Anderson said about 124 riders from Drayton Valley, Gunn, Lloydminster, Spruce Grove, Stony Plain, Leduc, Wildwood, Seba Beach and Tomahawk have registered so far.

They will be divided into two groups, she explained. One group will leave at 9 a.m., the other an hour later.

Riders basically leave from the area where they registered, she said.

She added riders are welcome to register Saturday and camp overnight if they wish.

To qualify for the ride, participants must have a minimum of donations: $25 worth for riders 14 years of age and younger, and $15 for those older than 15.

Proceeds from the ride will go to the Canadian Cancer Society for education, patient services and research.

Last year's trail ride raised over $6,000 and organizers hope to increase that figure this year.

Black powder gun

Drayton Valley cannon-maker thinks he's got winner

Geoff Fletcher sets his sights on the black powder provincials.

By Steve Fletcher
Cannon shooters are a very select group of people. But in June, Frank Maddock high school custodian Geoff Fletcher plans on being one of the 25 or so Albertans who get charged up by the smell of black powder and a love for accuracy.

Fletcher sees the potential for his newly-devised cannon to be the big winner at the black powder provincials this year, if everything goes well and his solid based barrel is as solidly based as he thinks.

"We'll test it locally (with targets) at 100 yards. If it shoots to within three or four inches, we know we've got something that can win the provincials."

A mark of accuracy at tournaments is to come within 12 inches of the target from a distance of 200 metres.

Fletcher's cannon, which he says resembles an American Civil War Era field gun, was designed with several unique characteristics in mind.

"It's got two target aperture sights, front and back," he said. "The barrel is mounted solidly so that the only play (movement) is the recoil factor."

"And it has a 1½ inch bore, making it cheaper to shoot, but it is over minimum (size)."

The first tournament of the year occurs in Athabasca June 13 and 14. Fletcher plans to take his 300-pound cannon there, and to continue the route to the provincials in Edson with tournaments in Bonnyville and, perhaps, in southern Alberta.

"It all depends on how well the cannon shoots...I'm hoping it shoots well right off the bat," Fletcher said.

If not, revisions in design will have to be made following its initial tryout next week in the sandpits of the North Saskatchewan River.

Clearance has already been received from the local RCMP and Fletcher will be allowed to practice at a firing range in Spruce Grove.

The cannon had its unusual beginnings at the high school welding shop.

He originally wanted to buy one, but with prices in the $1,000 area "costs were prohibitive," he said.

As a result, local businesses were solicited for their help. Fletcher said: "Everybody was quite interested in it, so everybody gave us a little bit of a break."

High pressure seamless tubing was acquired and it became the cannon's barrel.

High school welding instructor Steve Hall was shown pictures of exactly what was wanted by Fletcher, and Hall was able to construct a metal carriage from an old wagon. Welding students also contributed time to the project.

The whole thing took two to three weeks to complete with a price tag of approximately $550.

New MD

School division to show concern

The Yellowhead school division plans to send a letter to the minister of municipal affairs to express their concerns on the formation of a new municipal district.

The school division plans to express their concern over the loss in assessment due to the boundary changes. Minutes from their April 8 meeting, add that any erosion of the tax base regarding assessment, will affect long range planning.

A copy of the letter to the minister will also be sent to ID 14, Edson MLA Ian Reid and Whitecourt MLA Peter Trynchy.

Rodeo queen contest dethroned

A lack of entries has forced the Lions Club to drop plans for a rodeo queen contest this year.

The April 6 application deadline came and went with very little response.

"(We received) one for sure, and a second maybe," Lions representative Stan Kurylo said.

The Lions were hoping for six entries.

Kurylo blamed the apparent apathy on a late start in organizing the event and a lack of advertising.

However, the Lions have not been discouraged and intend to pursue the idea next year, with the planning stages beginning in January, he added.

Meanwhile, the 1987 edition of the Evergreen Rodeo is all but ready for its June 12 start, with cowboys, stock contractor, midway and band booked.

The Lakeland Cowboy Association will be supplying the cowboys and this year's stock comes from Block Brothers, said John Fiddler, rodeo committee chairman.

The band will be Edmonton's Clearwater with the midway being provided by Crown Amusements.

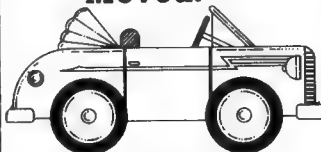

Fiddler said the rodeo grounds are basically ready for the event, although some minor repairs will be necessary.

The parade's theme will be Drayton Valley's 30th anniversary, and will include a pipe and bugle band.

This year marks the Lions Club's 18th annual Evergreen Rodeo.

Albertans shafted at the gasoline pumps?

In view of a recent survey which determined Alberta gasoline sells for approximately 38.2 cents per litre while Ontario gasoline sells for 41.3 cents per litre, Liberal Leader Nick Taylor questions why Alberta's pump price was only three cents less, when Ontario has an 8.3 per cent tax, while our province has none.

Questioning why Alberta consumers are getting shafted at the pump at a time when refineries are making record profits, Taylor urged Elaine McCoy, minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs to immediately launch a full public inquiry into retail gas prices in Alberta. "Will the minister tell the House why gasoline in Edmonton costs five cents a litre more than in Toronto, excluding taxes?" he asked.

With the imminent five-cent-per-litre tax increase taking effect June 1, "will the minister take the necessary steps to ensure oil companies do not roll in an additional price increase at that time?"

As Audra Meikle serves the birdie, partner Darci Wirstuk is ready to receive the play at last week's badminton conference held in Drayton Valley.

By Stacey Orlesky
Approximately 140 students from Hinton, Grande Cache, Edson, Jasper, Grand Trunk (Evansburg), Seba Beach, Breton, Thorby, and Warburg were entered in the badminton conference held in Drayton Valley April 18.

Frank Maddock high school hosted the conference. Mrs. Setterlund and Mrs. Prentice, the Drayton Valley coaches, organized the conference.

There are three levels to badminton: junior, intermediate and senior and three categories to the levels: singles, doubles, and mixed doubles.

First place winners for the junior boys singles was Rob Palitzat of Jasper. Second place went to Albert Druar from Grand Trunk.

Junior girls singles winner was Dana Miller of Drayton Valley, second place Carol Walker from Grand Trunk.

Boys doubles winners were Benji Heinrichs and Marco Lou from Grand Trunk and second place went to Pat McIntyre and Rob Beard of Grande Cache.

Rhonda Bartel and Cora Tracey of Edson won first in the junior girls doubles. Second place winners were Juanita Ness and Pam McDowell of Drayton Valley. In junior mixed Lawrence Rehn and Beckie Mason from Grande Trunk came first and Kyla Booth and Clay Bevans from Drayton Valley came second.

Winners in intermediate were Geoff Stecyk from Jasper in the boys singles and Caroline Bahrynowski from Grand Trunk in the girls singles. Guy Taylor from Grand Trunk came in second in the singles and Shannon Bellmond from Edson in second for the girls.

From Seba Beach John Edgerton and Dean McLeod took first place in the boys doubles, Dwayne Shephard and John Perrine from Edson came in second. In girls doubles Tracy Columbine and Teri Lewis of Hinton won first place and Deanne Towns and Jackie Bradley from Edson took second.

In mixed Tracy Coutourier and Lisa Tink from Drayton Valley took first place, coming in second was Herman Iglesias and Ximena Martinez from Grande Cache.

And in the seniors Sheldon Daigen took first place in the boys singles while Terry Crosby from Grand Trunk was second. Mary Dewkins from Drayton Valley won first in the girls singles, second place winner was Lisa Bardar of Edson. From Drayton Valley James Manning and Neil Lenders took first, second was Duncan LaBelle and Wayne Stocks from Grande Cache.

In girls doubles Audra Meikle and Darci Wirstuk of Drayton Valley won first, Rosalie Robuto and Tammy Wilding came in second.

The mixed first place winners were Dave Mohr and Laurel Pfannmuller from Drayton. Second place winners were Estelle Bruhlund and Brad Lyphie from Grand Trunk.

Volunteers needed for Guides, Brownies

By Shelli Carmon
696-2296

Canadian author Cora Taylor will be speaking to the general assembly of junior high students at the Breton high school April 28 (today) at 2 p.m. All other interested parties are welcome to attend.

Taylor is the author of Julie, which was the winner of the Canadian Library Association award in 1985. The tour is in cooperation with the Breton high school, National Book Festival and the Yellowhead Regional Library and is Canada Council funded.

Taylor will be accompanied by Louise Frolek of the Yellowhead Regional Library.

The Breton junior high student's union has concluded its magazine campaign for this year and reports the best year so far.

The students sold $5,831.68 in magazine subscriptions. Their commission is one-third of that figure ($1,943.57).

Top sales people were: Jason Huber (31), Tracy LaChance (18), Rhonda Johnson (18), Bruce Wall (18), Alice Long (12), Greg Ball (12), Holly Coates (10), Cheryl Cox (10) and Kelly Froese (10).

The Grade 7s raised $1,978.01; Grade 8s $2,018.87 and the Grade 9s raised $1,834.80.

All students receive prizes for selling and will be going on a trip to West Edmonton Mall at a later date.

Each year the sales have increased and the students are appreciative of the public's support. Subscriptions were purchased from local residents with some as far east as Ontario as well as the Prairie provinces and B.C. The magazine campaign is coordinated by junior high teacher Olga Reade.

For the last four years Breton, Lindale, Caranwood, Alsike, Warburg and Winfield area girls, between six and 12 years of age, have had the opportunity to belong to Brownies or Girl Guides. However, in September there were no Brownies or Guides in Breton due to the lack of adults willing to help with the program.

There is an ongoing misconception that you should have a daughter who is a Brownie or Guide before you become a leader.

This is definitely not the case. If you have sons and want to do something besides attend hockey practice; if you are retired and looking for involvement with younger people; if your children are grown or even if you don't have children, you may enjoy meeting and working with these girls.

Brownies are for girls six to eight years of age. Their program centres on the home and community. Guides are for girls nine to 12 years and their program expands into the outdoors and the world, while encouraging citizenship at home and in the community.

If you are considering becoming a leader or resource person and would like to help, please contact

Jean Huber at 696-2188 or Diane Shave at 696-2185.

There will be a May Day tea, bake sale, and variety table May 1 from 2-4 p.m. at the Breton Golden Age Centre. This is sponsored by the hospital auxiliary ladies.

Tae Kwon Do

Three Drayton Valley boys took home medals from the 1987 Western Canadian Open Martial Arts Championship in Camrose April 11.

Tyson Wolbaum, 16, took gold in the junior green-blue belt sparring division.

Deryk Hamilton, 14, won gold in the junior red-black belt sparring division.

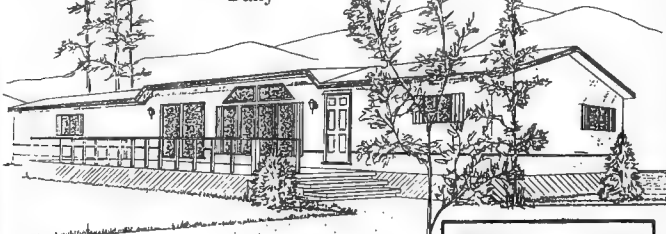

And Terry Hegenwerter, 13, took a silver in the junior green-blue belt patterns division.

Also competing in the 16 hour competition were Kurt Thorsen, Aaron Fuson, Kevin Vetch, along with competitors from the Spruce Grove club.

Approximately 350 competitors came from across Western Canada to compete in tae kwon do, kung fu, karate, and various kick boxing clubs.

The Tae Kwon Do club is looking forward to the next competition in Kelowna, B.C. May 25. All Drayton Valley students are taught by instructor Nelson Silva, who has schools in Spruce Grove, Stony Plain, Drayton Valley, Edmonton, Edson, and Hinton.

Visit to Lindale school something to be remembered

If you visit Lindale school at the west end of the county of Leduc even once, you will remember it.

Certainly, you will remember that the school spreads out into four separate buildings. Grades 4 to 9, the general office and the staff room are housed in a one-level structure. Kindergarten to Grade 3 are in a two-level building across the yard. The library is in a portable while the computer room, music room and Grade 7 classroom are located in a little building across the road.

Also, you will no doubt remember that most of the buildings are painted a bright blue. You may even remember that Lindale school is recognised as being a smoke-free area.

The school staff is largely responsible for creating the friendly learning environment. Julia Tweedie, a local resident with a warm smile, has been the secretary at Lindale school for the last 14 years. Principal Carl McCall, who came to Lindale school in September 1986, is a polished individual who has spent his 19 years as an educator working in rural schools by choice. His efforts have not gone unnoticed.

When asked his opinion of Lindale school, Grade 5 student Clint Thatcher said it really had a good principal. The entire school staff is dedicated to running an effective school — from Susan Booker in kindergarten — to Mike Pocatello in grades 5-6 — to Pearl Kaiser in the library. Since clean surroundings have been shown to have a beneficial effect on learning, the work of custodian Barb Hutchinson is much appreciated.

The community as a whole has a considerable amount to do with the successful operation of Lindale school. The small but stable community of Lindale has passed on its traditional values to the children. McCall states that his students have a basic belief in what life should be about as well as a genuine respect for right and wrong. Since the students possess an inner discipline, teacher Randy Baak points out that at Lindale school "supervision is not a problem."

The Lindale parents, most of whom have attended Lindale school in the past, now participate in the education of their children. The teachers draw up schedules whereby the parents of children in kindergarten and elementary classes make regular visits to assist in the classrooms.

Most days at least one parent volunteer is working in the school. The grades 5-6 class had two parent helpers March 29. Cheryl Hall and Diane Shipton, among attentive children, showing them how to sew rag dolls for a unit on pioneers. Diane Shipton and Phyllis Shipton are responsible for operating the play school which meets at Lindale school for two half-days per week.

Community support of the school does not end there. The students' union has financed field trips, notably the ski excursions, through its regular fund raising. The home and school association has bought a bus for field trip transportation and supplied the drivers. Lindale school has provided a meeting place for community groups and the Alberta Education slogan, "Partners in Education", has been put into practice.

Lindale school is a special school in many ways, mostly related to its smallness. Since only 125 students from kindergarten to Grade 9 attend, Lindale students do not experience rejection and isolation sometimes occurring in larger schools. The school has an active, intramural sports program which McCall believes is a help to academic functioning because it allows students to let off steam in a controlled setting. All students may participate because the small numbers make tryouts unnecessary. A junior high student, Arna Bryant, pointed out that girls and boys make up the same teams, even in football.

Since there are fewer students than in schools, the teachers get to know the children better and are able to spend more time helping with their problems. Joan Tryon, secretary of the students' union, says, "Our opinions are important to the teachers."

Definitely, there are advantages in getting to know people better and "close-knit" is a word often used in connection with Lindale school. Students' union president Tracy Martin described how Grade 9 students often look after the kindergarten children on the school grounds. Several students in Cindy Van Ember's class put it another way when they said how easy it was to make friends at Lindale school.

As in a family, the school staff believes in giving the students a certain amount of responsibility. For the March junior high dance, the young people set the rules and regulations for the evening. Attendance was by invitation only and the music chosen had been previously determined by a survey. Principal McCall termed the event "a great success with not one discipline problem."

The students have also proven their trustworthiness by the absence of vandalism at Lindale school. Student Corrine Thatcher believes her classmates take care of what they have because they have all worked hard to make money for the school.

Perhaps the most evident quality Lindale students possess is their strong school spirit. Sharileen Davidson spoke excitedly about the new discovery playground everyone is going to build Saturday, June 6. Marty Carroll made the comment, "Small schools are better!"

The children love their school. That is why it was rather sad when a young boy named Jonny Robb expressed his fear that Lindale school "was going to be lost, torn down or something." It is a needless fear. The county of Leduc board of education is committed to the existence of its small schools. In the long run, small schools pay for themselves in terms of educational and social benefits. Children in our small communities deserve them.

RCMP

'Spring Brake' soon

The Drayton Valley RCMP will soon be introducing Spring Brake to the area.

Between May 28 and May 30, RCMP will institute the program, which is designed to increase drivers' awareness about speed limits in school and playground zones.

To attract the attention of the drivers, a display unit — a large electronic sign — will be hooked up to a radar unit on the hood of a police car.

As drivers pass the sign, their speeds are displayed in bold letters on the sign.

Cpl. Tom Turner said the program will act as warning to those who may not have realized just how fast they were driving.

The display unit is made available to all K Division detachments for any Special Community Safety Program.

Happiness is having friends who laugh at your stories when they're not so good and sympathize with you in your troubles even when they're not so bad.

Fourteen take prestigious table seats

By Virginia Kuzek
Fourteen ladies took their seats at the prestigious centre table at the April 13 meeting of the Drayton Valley Oilwives. Each one was a past-president of the Oilwives club.

The special qualities of these women quickly became evident when they were called upon to relate memories of their reign.

With humor, song and wit they captivated the audience. Some members were reliving all those special moments while newer people delighted in hearing them for the first time.

Current president and emcee, Jeanette Miner had researched the records well and added her own quips and comments.

The business of the day included reports by each executive member on their duties in preparation for the Eating out will take on new meaning in May when those who frequent the town's restaurants will leave with visions of the upcoming Evergreen Rodeo dancing in their heads.

A total of 100,000 placemats has been ordered by the Lions Club as a new way of promoting this year's rodeo.

Sheldon Fuson, who along with Bill Palmer is "co-chairman of a two-man committee" in charge of producing the placemats, said they were designed to both increase rodeo attendance and raise funds for the event.

Thirty advertising spots border the placemat, with rodeo information found in the centre box.

The background will include a ghost silhouette of the Lions Club emblem, Fuson said.

The placemats will be distributed at no cost to the restaurants, with almost all readily agreeing to use them.

Any restaurant "which chose not to partake had a legitimate reason," said Fuson. One restaurant, for example, had its menu affixed to its placemat.

The placemats should be off the production line and ready for the dinner tables by May 1. Work on the placemats is being handled locally by DV Printers, he added.

Fuson doesn't expect any flak over the placemats from the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce.

"It's for a six-week period only (May 1-June 15). After that they (the restaurants) can do what they wish with the placemats."

The chamber of commerce has also set its sights on producing placemats as a way to promote the area.

Humor is just another defense against the universe. MAY THOMAS

SPRING CLEAN - UP

May 4 to 8, 1987

This week has been proclaimed "Spring Clean - Up Week" and we are asking that all residents help us in making Drayton Valley refuse free.

The Town of Drayton Valley will be following the regular garbage pick - up schedule during this week and all lawn clippings, tree and hedge clippings, bags of refuse, etc. should be ready for pick - up by 8:00 a.m.

For your convenience the Landfill Site will be open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Wednesday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR USE OF THE LANDFILL SITE!

If you have large items that are difficult to remove from your property (appliances, furniture, car bodies, etc.) call the office at 542-5327. We will arrange to have these items removed for you - Free of Charge!

School children will be cleaning school grounds and we ask that everyone pitch in during this week to help clean parks, sidewalks, lanes and boulevard areas

TOGETHER WE CAN MAKE DRAYTON VALLEY A CLEANER PLACE TO LIVE!
THANKS FOR YOUR HELP!

Grain prices bad news to farmer

By Gerald Laarbule

The recently announced initial price on grain was not welcomed news to most farmers.

The Canadian Wheat Board handles all grain destined for export. Every year in March or April the Canadian Wheat Board announces the price it will guarantee to farmers for the various types and grades of grain. The farmer is paid the guaranteed initial price upon delivery. The Wheat Board then resells the grain on the world market.

After the crop year ends, which runs from Aug. 1 to July 31, the board calculates the average price they were able to sell each type of grain for. If they were able to sell the grain for more than they paid to the farmers, the balance is paid to the producers in a final payment. If the board received less than the initial price they paid to producers then no further payment is made.

Last year the initial prices were decreased 20.30 per cent. This year they have been reduced a further 20.30 per cent. Grain to be delivered for the crop year 1987-88 will be worth half what it was worth three years ago. The initial price for number 1 wheat is $110/tonne (3.99/bu), $60/tonne (1.31/bu) for barley, and $55/tonne (85/bu) for oats.

Costs to produce the grain have also decreased, mainly due to lower fertilizer and fuel prices, however the fall in input costs has only been marginal compared to drastic decreases in grain prices.

In order to shield farmers from sudden drops in grain prices, many participate in an insurance program. The Western Grain Stabilization program guarantees that net cash flow from the sale of grain in any one year does not fall below the average receipts for the immediately preceding five-year period.

Western Grain Stabilization is an insurance type program with premiums currently paid 25 per cent by the producer and 75 per cent by the federal government. Currently the premium levy rate equals one per cent of grain receipts for the producer and three per cent of grain receipts for the federal government.

To further offset the impact of the drastically reduced prices the federal government last fall announced the Special Canadian Grains program which paid farmers in this area an average of $15/seeded acre.

Still grain producers are facing tough times. They remain victims of a trade war between the United States and the E.E.C. The immediate future does not look promising. The situation will ease only when and if an international trading agreement is reached between grain exporting countries.

While the States and the E.E.C. continue to compete for a shrinking export market through subsidized export prices and artificially high prices paid to producers, many Canadian farmers will have to fight for survival.

Thanks

Further to our "Thanks" of April 21st, we wish to extend additional thanks to Ricks Sporting Goods, Dawn Rae Jewellers and the community at large for their support

Local MLA pleading case for new municipal district

Shirley Cripps is a busy lady these days. The MLA for Drayton Valley and area is pleading the case of constituents who want to run their own show.

Very simply, the aforementioned constituents feel left out of the picture when it comes to things that affect the Drayton Valley area. They happen to be at the wrong end of the County of Parkland and their votes don't carry enough weight on council. Therefore, they want to form their own municipal district. Bullly for them.

There's just one small problem.

It would wind up costing the people in ID 14 a lot of money. The proposed ID would be made up of pieces from various surrounding counties all in the area of Drayton Valley. Included would be two pieces from the eastern end of ID 14.

At a recent open house, councillors Bill Mahon and Jeff Emons indicated this would result in a subsequent increase in taxes in the order of three to five per cent. This isn't going to bring smiles to the faces of ratepayers (we haven't found a tax increase that does) but it's a lot less scary than the proposal to take another chunk out of the ID which takes away a quarter of its assessment.

This leaves the residents of ID 14 facing one of two choices: either a 25 per cent increase in taxes or a 25 per cent reduction in services. Either way it's going to hurt. Edsonites won't feel the impact immediately, but if the ID finds itself with a quarter of its revenue gone, it's not going to feel too inclined to kicking in money for projects like the leisure centre.

What's really disappointing is the public apathy towards this situation. Stories on this issue were prominent in our paper a year ago. At the time, we asked random members of the public about their feelings on the subject, and received blank looks in return.

The ID advisory council can write letters to the minister of municipal affairs until they turn blue in the face; but if there are no ratepayers backing them, it may be a wasted effort.

Don't get us wrong, neighbors to the south. We're not saying you shouldn't have your own rural jurisdiction. Just don't do it at our expense.

— Edson Leader

Forest Week events

Perhaps for the first time ever, Drayton Valley will be an active participant in National Forest Week (May 8-9).

Local events will include a poster contest and an open house at the new Sturdi Wood strandboard plant.

Organizer-foresters Robert Winship (from Sturdi Wood) and Daniel Walton (of the Alberta Forest Service) banded together to package the events.

The purpose "is to get some recognition for the country's woodlands...to give people some idea of the value of the resource to the nation," Winship said.

The open house takes place May 7, from noon to 5 p.m.

Tours will be available but, for safety reasons, visitors must be at least 16 years of age and must be fitted with the appropriate footwear — "no high heels," Winship cautioned.

The poster contest is open to anyone in grades 1 to 6. The posters must express the young person's impression of the theme of forest week: "A Shared Resource."

First-place winners, one for each grade, will receive helicopter rides courtesy of the Alberta Forest Service.

Deadline for the poster competition is April 30.

RCMP after oil thieves

The Whitecourt RCMP Detachment is investigating an oilfield equipment theft valued at more than $100,000.

Staff Sergeant Ben Anderson of the Whitecourt detachment said that in the early hours of March 24, someone broke into the FACTS Oilfield Tool supply office, in the Whitecourt Hilltop Industrial Park, and stole a number of retrievable packing retainers, or plugs as they are called.

Anderson said the RCMP believe that more than one thief is involved, and they seemed to know exactly what they were after, and where to go to get what they came for.

The culprits opened a bay door at the shop and backed a truck into the building, which they loaded up with the plugs, valued at $2,000-$4,000 apiece, depending on the model.

One unique thing about the theft is that the particular items stolen are only supplied in Canada by FACTS, so tracing the plugs should be an easy matter if they were to turn up elsewhere in Alberta.

Anderson did admit the RCMP have very few leads in the case, but are hoping the uniqueness of the items stolen will help in tracking down the thieves.

The FACTS building was not equipped with burglar alarms, which aided in the theft.

School administration planning

Frank Maddeck
The administration is making plans for the 1987-88 school year.

The orientation of Grade 9 students, surveying course needs and making up the school timetable are the main activities.

Early in May students will be identifying their course needs for the year. Come and enjoy an "Evening of the Arts" at Frank Maddeck high school on Wednesday, April 29 at 7 p.m.

School is more than just memorizing facts and figures; it is also a chance to practice and enjoy the arts.

On Wednesday, April 29, we would like to share some of our artistic endeavors with you.

There will be modern dance, stage band and choral presentations, drama and art and beauty culture displays. A silver collection will be at the door.

Eldorado
The school also participated in the Parkland choral celebration April 22 and 23.

The Kinetite club of Drayton Valley and the RCMP in cooperation with the staff of Eldorado, is continuing a program called Operation Child Identification.

The objective of this program is to provide parents with all the pertinent information required by the police in case of an emergency. April 23 saw the initiation of this program.

H.W. Pickup
Four school teams will be going to the County badminton tournament May 2, and the school is also sending teams to the county High-Q competition April 28.

The school track and field team will be starting today (Tuesday), so kids, make sure you show your school spirit and get out there!

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

Just a small reminder: the school cautions will be closing May 1. Stock up now while there is still time!

Tomahawk
Tomahawk will also be sending teams to the county badminton tournament, the B team went on April 25, and the A team will be going May 2. Good luck to all of you.

Arrangements are being made for the Frank Maddeck high school choral group to perform at Tomahawk school. Stay tuned for more details.

Bretton Elementary
A Mother's Day tea will be held May 8. Mothers are invited to come in and be served by the Grade 6 class. Unfortunately, the Grade 5 class will be cleaning up.

Report cards were given out this last week. Parents, have you gotten your copy yet?

The sports activities are proceeding well at St. Anthony's. The school has been practising track and field and badminton.

On May 1, there will be a junior high dance. Sounds like a lot of fun, guys.

Lindale
Grades 4 to 6 are going to the Leduc Rotary Music Festival today (Tuesday), with Mrs. VanEmber's class performing a recorder selection, and Mr. Baak's class performing a choir selection.

The students are canvassing for the annual walk-a-thon, with funds going to the Student's Union. The walk-a-thon takes place May 12.

With spring in the air, baseball and football are well underway at the school.

Elementary B
There are two competitions the school will be participating in: the soap box challenge, put on by the county police, and a Pelican Mills contest. Best of luck to all competitors.

Elementary B is now testing for the Canada Fitness Test, so if you see kids outside doing sit ups, running or doing chin-ups, you know what is going on.

Today, the school is receiving a presentation by the Foothills Brass Company, a group from Calgary.

In the choir festival held April 22 and 23, the Elementary B school choir did a good job, scoring 83 out of 100. Congratulations, all who competed.

Concert at Pickup

The Calvary Baptist Church will be sponsoring a concert Saturday night at H.W. Pickup school.

The church's youth minister, Tim Lees, says the concert is open to all young people in town. Tickets will be sold at the door.

The band, Seventy X Seven, is from Calgary and specializes in Christian/pop music.

Lees said the band also plays music similar in style to artists Amy Grant and Steve Camale.

The concert starts at 7:30 p.m.

Tories' slide halted

Last year 50,000 Albertans lost their job in the oil patch.

And the federal Progressive Conservatives lost their place in the hearts of Albertans. The latest poll showed the Tories trailing both the New Democrats and the Liberals among Edmonton voters, with 28 per cent of the vote.

Those are the critical numbers behind federal Energy Minister Marcel Masse's windfall announcement in Edmonton recently.

The package will pump $350 million a year from federal tax coffers directly into oil drilling grants. It is expected to produce another 2,000 wells this year and 15,000 jobs. Eighty per cent of the money and work is expected to come to Alberta.

It will offer the most help to small and medium-size oil companies, who have been hardest hit by the oil price slump. They can claim grants for up to one-third of their exploration expenses, to a limit of $3 million on $10 million of spending.

They will be allowed to pass those grants on to investors to help raise money; Mr. Masse hopes the plan will boost petroleum investment by $1 billion.

Investment in the oil patch is critical on at least three fronts.

In the short term, it will put talented, productive people back to work.

In the longer term, investment is needed to build up the pool of proven oil reserves. The day is not too far off when oil will be in tight supply again, when prices will be up, and when need for secure energy supplies will be transparent.

Investment in Alberta is also critical for the Progressive Conservative Party's political future.

A short time ago, Premier Don Getty was making angry noises about splitting the provincial Tories off from their federal cousins, unless an energy aid package was announced.

Now, it's all hugs and kisses. The federal party's slide has been instantly halted.

And without strong support from Alberta, the federal Tories would have certainly been doomed, come the next election.

Millie Olsen is the first vice-president and May Barker is second vice president. Sandy Connell will do the secretarial duties while Agnes Primeau will handle the finances. Katie Kokott is the hospitality hostess.

Sixteen members are required before the organization can get their charter. Anyone interested in joining is welcome to attend their May 5 meeting, set for 7:30 p.m. at the Frank Maddock high school. For more information call 542-2128.

'Graying majority'

Baby boomers getting older

If you are a baby boomer you're getting older and by the turn of a century, according to one agricultural specialist, you'll be part of the graying majority that will be reshaping food production patterns.

John Oliver, vice president of Eli Lilly Canada Inc. told a recent agriculture conference that as the baby boomers get into their 40s, 50s and 60s, they will eat less and eat different foods.

By the year 2001, 46 per cent of the population will be over 40 compared to 38 per cent today. By 1990, just 10 years from now, nearly 7.6 million Canadians, almost one-third of the population will be over 50 years of age — a 50 per cent increase in two decades.

Nearly 3.6 million of this 7.6 million, or almost half will be 65 years or older. This population shift means markets for red meats in the developed world will diminish greatly and with it the need for abundant feed grains.

Men on the street

Do you think capital punishment should be reinstated?

"Yes. An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth; they're getting off too easily. I think it should be reinstated for all first and second degree murders...there's just too much crime."

Planned disaster fools an unsuspecting passerby

Thirty Frank Maddock high school students were injured last Wednesday when the school bus they were riding in was hit from behind by a truck.

Or so it seemed.

The training exercise, put on by the Town of Drayton Valley and Alberta Public Safety Services had many passers-by worried that a real accident had taken place.

In actual fact, the disaster exercise, scheduled for the corner of 60th Avenue and Highway 22 at 12:30 p.m.

An injured student is helped.

got an early start when a motorist actually took it for the real thing.

Dave Turner, assistant disaster services coordinator for the town was extremely pleased with the results. He praised the volunteers for their participation and excellent response.

Ken Morris, a field services officer with Public Safety Services was also impressed.

The intent of the exercise was to test the response to "mass casualties" at the Drayton Valley hospital.

The students, from the FMHS drama class, were praised for the roles they played in the exercise.

The RCMP were the first on the scene when the call was made followed by three ambulances. The ambulance attendants were aided in taking the students out of the bus by the volunteer fire department, who arrived to foam down the oil spilling from the tank truck. Several local residents arrived with their own vehicles, which served as back-up ambulances.

Following the exercise, all the participants attended a briefing session with Morris and his staff.

4-H highway clean-up

Area is to get a facelift

The annual spring clean up gets underway this Saturday.

Local 4-H groups will be cleaning the ditches along area highways. Clubs will be collecting litter for a distance of up to 10 miles each direction out of town.

Participants will be wearing bright red and orange vests.

The highway clean-up is a major fund raiser for the 4-H clubs. Alberta Transportation pays $30 per two-sided mile.

The town's annual clean up campaign will be held the week of May 4 to 8.

Regular garbage pick up will be observed during the week, and all residents are asked to have lawn clippings, tree and hedge clippings, bags of refuse, etc. ready for pickup by 8 a.m.

If you have any large items that are difficult to remove, such as appliances, furniture or car bodies, call the town office at 542-5327. These will be removed free of charge.

The landfill site will be open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

School children will also be out that week cleaning school grounds.

Everyone is asked to pitch in and clean up the town.

Learning to golf a hit at Powerhouse

Nearly 300 people started the season off on an active note last week by registering for a spring course from the Drayton Valley Powerhouse.

However, about half of the registrants (144 so far) chose the fairway as their leisure location.

According to Powerhouse coordinator Val Tucker, golf was the number 1 choice again this year.

Beside the usual Learn to Golf, this year Stroke Improvement is being offered, making room for twice as many golf students, said Tucker.

She added there are still openings in the afternoon session of Stroke Improvement, held Mondays and Wednesdays from 1 to 2 p.m. Also popular were the Flower Arranging Your Flower Bed session, now full, and Budgeting is Back In Style.

At the other end of the scale, only two people signed up for the spring Tune-Up Day for Ladies, which has been cancelled.

Also a no-go was the runners' workshop due to lack of interest, but tennis stroke improvement is on as scheduled.

"We would have liked more people for birdwatching," Tucker said, "but one of the seasons will likely go ahead anyway."

She added registrations will be taken for unfilled courses up until the day of their commencement.

Tucker said if any groups in the area have an idea for a course, they can apply for a further education grant through Powerhouse.

The grant, which applies to non-credit courses up to a maximum 100 hours in length, could be used to pay instructor fees.

Up to $8 per instructional hour is available, plus mileage where applicable.

Tucker said it is recommended a registration fee of one dollar per hour be charged for such courses.

Heritage Day is changed

The County of Parkland's Cultural Heritage Day, originally scheduled for May 2, has been postponed until later that month.

Cultural coordinator Carrie Ann Wiseman said drastic changes to the event's itinerary led to the new date of May 30.

Other events going on that May 2 weekend, including the bowl-a-thon and 4-H activities, made the postponement necessary, she added.

Moreover, the location of the event has also been changed.

Wiseman said the location of the event, however, will remain at the Replex - thanks to recent cancellation.

Initially, French-Canadian singer Gilbert Parent was scheduled to attend, along with both Ukrainian and Native dancers.

One event that remains intact, however, is the antiques display, which jibes well with the cultural festival's major theme - the celebration of the area's pioneer heritage.

The Notebook

By
Const. Terry Pon

Welcome this week to The Notebook.
This week I will direct my message toward the younger crowd.

As the days grow longer and the nights get warmer, the urge to socialize in the great outdoors becomes stronger. Yes, it's time for a "Bush Party."

Often these parties are held on off lease roads without permission of the land owner. On many occasions property is damaged and a mess is left behind. Teenagers well under the legal drinking age attend and leave in severely intoxicated condition.

Section 63(2) of the Liquor Control Act reads:
"Except as otherwise provided in this Act or the regulations, no person shall consume liquor in a public place or any other place other than a residence, temporary residence, licensed premises, premises described in a permit or a place or class of place described in the regulations where liquor may be consumed."

An offence under this section calls for a $50 penalty. In addition, any person under the age of 18 years old in violation of the section will be given a mandatory court appearance.

Any further questions on this section, please contact our office at 542-4619.

Parkland Panda is on his way

By Cpl. Gary Hubbs
County of Parkland Police
Parkland Panda originally came from the high mountain forests of central China. As a cub, he always wanted to be a police bear. Several years ago his wish came true when he joined the Royal Hong Kong Police Department.

It was here, in the Aberdeen Police Training Academy, that he first developed a keen Sherlockian interest in traffic safety theories and deductions.

Parkland Panda recently obtained permission from Her Majesty's Government to enter into an international police exchange program, thus enabling him to join the County of Parkland Police.

As president of the local Junior Traffic Safety Officer Club, have agreed to assist Parkland Panda in his quest to "spread the word" about traffic safety to the boys and girls in Parkland County.

We'll be visiting rural elementary schools during the coming weeks to discuss traffic tips carried in the club newsletter.

Students may be interested to know that Parkland Panda's hobbies and interests include walks in the forest and watching Bruce Lee movies.

WATCH FOR YOUNG ALBERTANS CLEANING UP THIS SATURDAY.

Please drive with extra care and caution.
Over 9,000 young Albertans are cleaning up our primary highways.

Every year on the first Saturday in May, a group of young Albertans make a special effort to clean up Alberta's highways. Saturday, May 2nd*, is the big day.

Over 9,000 members of our 4-H Clubs and Junior Forest Wardens will take part in removing the litter along Alberta's roadsides over the winter.

More than 8,000 km of provincial primary highway right-of-way will be cleaned and about 60,000 garbage bags will be filled.

Although these terrific young people will be wearing safety vests and bright clothing and will be supervised by their parents and leaders, YOU, AS THE OPERATOR OF A VEHICLE THAT DAY, MUST BE EXTRA CAUTIOUS.

Please do your part. Watch for our young volunteers! Look for the road signs! Please drive safely.

Registration for all summer learn-to-swim programs will commence May 1. All levels of preschool classes and Red Cross learn-to-swim programs will be offered throughout the summer. In addition to these watch for snorkelling, synchronized swimming, stroke improvement, adult learn-to-swim, bronze medalion, bronze cross and water safety instructor 1.

Here are a few survival tips, if you happen to become the victim of icy water:

1. Keep all clothing on; it provides some extra insulation.

2. Try and get as much of your body out of the water as possible. Water is much colder than air.

3. Try not to swim around too much. Save your energy, it provides extra heat. If the shore is really close you may have enough heat and energy. The H.E.L.P. or 'huddle' positions help to maintain heat loss.

4. Alcohol and water do not mix.

5. Enrol in a Red Cross learn-to-swim program.

Leadership, confidence vital to those who volunteer

Voluntary organizations exist to meet a variety of

The individual member is the strength of the organization, both contributing and benefiting from involvement. For an organization to meet its goals, members require some leadership and managerial skills, as well as the self-confidence to believe they and their organization can "make a difference." Development and survival of organizations depends on this.

Needs are continually emerging in communities — needs that must be addressed by voluntary organizations. One such organization is the Alberta Women's Institute.

Women's Institutes, established in 1909, has a proud history in its work towards improving life for people at home and in communities around the world. For many Alberta women, the opportunity to develop leadership skills begins with their involvement as a member of a local branch of the Alberta Women's Institute.

The aims and objectives of the Alberta Women's Institute are to encourage women, both rural and urban (over the age of 18) to organize as a group within their respective communities. Their mandate is to serve both home and country by working to create improved social conditions within their community and province.

The Alberta Women's Institute is currently working on a program titled You and Your Organization. Each of the 150 local branches throughout Alberta will be working with their district home economist to present this workshop to its members and other community groups and organizations interested in attending.

For many people time is an increasingly scarce resource, resulting in them becoming more selective in their involvement in community organizations. People need to see the value of time spent in meetings and activities.

You and Your Organization will look at efficient use of your time. The objectives are outlined as follows:

Following the workshop participants will: know the importance for an organization to have clearly defined written goals; be able to demonstrate ways for members to contribute to making meetings effective; know the roles that individual members play in an organization; and begin to increase their knowledge and skills in parliamentary procedure and public speaking.

In Drayton Valley this workshop will be presented Thursday, May 7 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The $1 fee per person will cover coffee and a light lunch. For more information or to register phone Winnie at 542-4123 or me at 542-5385. Registration deadline is May 1.

Lindale meeting soon

The Lindale School Association will hold their next meeting May 5 at the school library at 7 p.m.

The walk-a-thon is scheduled for May 12. The kids are all out with their pledge sheets.

The track meet is scheduled for May 26. Anyone wishing to help in any way please call the school.

At the next meeting there will be more discussion on the junior high's three-day trip, which is set for May 27, 28 and 29.

The next Lindale Hall dance and social will be May

Pioneer experienced many types of work, lifestyles

By Donna Haukedal
Living in many different parts of Western Canada and the United States has given Hans Bratton the opportunity to experience many different kinds of work and lifestyles.

He was born in Norway in 1907, an only child. At the age of one, the family moved to Boulder, Colorado then to North Dakota.

In 1910 Hans' father homesteaded in Saskatoon where they lived until he was 14. While there, Hans studied accordion and violin and recalls the fun of playing for dances in the homes of the homesteaders. He said the charlestons and the two-step were very popular at that time.

Although very young when he left Norway, being raised by Norwegian parents in Norwegian communities gave Hans the opportunity to learn the language.

Because there was no money for schooling, Hans left home at 14 and went to work for his uncle who had a construction company in Washington State. After four years he went to work at the Vancouver shipyards. He went to Prince Rupert 2½ years later. "Wonderful Prince Rupert, there wasn't even a sidewalk in them days," he said.

One year of doing carpentry in a town without sidewalks was enough. Hans decided to go to Edmonton. There was nothing west of 124 Street then, he said. He recalls a horse watering trough just west of 124 St.

In the meantime, his father left Saskatchewan and took a homestead south of Evansburg in the Reno district. Hans came to Evansburg in 1936. In 1941 he was called to the army and served overseas until a year after the war's end.

Hans worked in logging camps and hauled lumber from camps in the Edson area to Edmonton by truck for a while. "That truck driving was something I didn't care for. Breakdowns, cold weather, frozen gas lines, etc.," he said.

He travelled Highway 16 with its endless hills and curves. "That Wabamun hill was something. If you didn't hold your gas feed in one place, I tell you, you went backwards. That was heck, that Wabamun hill."

Another tough spot was the river crossing at Entwistle-Evansburg, where the only bridge was the one lane near the provincial park. The road wasn't paved and the curves were not as streamlined as they are now.

In 1966 Hans bought his father's farm because he "was tired of roaming and wanted a place to call his own."

Following the discovery of oil in the Leduc-Calmor area, Hans went to work on drilling rigs, moving with them when drilling was started near Drayton Valley.

He remembers working on the rig that drilled the well which is near the lodge where he now resides.

After moving back to the Evansburg farm, Hans says, "I drove from the farm, by golly, to 14 miles south of Campton Corner (west of Violet Grove) every day for a whole winter. That old highway was tough, then."

Hans lost his leg in a farm machinery accident several years ago. He says it's a painful and frightening thing when you're alone in the field, with your only hope being that a neighbor will become suspicious that something is wrong.

Hans has lived at the Shangri La for 14 years. He still drives his own truck to his farm occasionally during the summer, as well as a few trips to visit friends at Mayerthorpe and Edson.

He has two accordions and an old violin (which he bought to fix up). He doesn't play the accordions often as he is concerned that he will disturb others. He also enjoys tapes of old country music.

Mother of 17

Great-granddaughter of Sir Alexander McKenzie

My Nona Hanked!
When meeting Nona Ey for the first time, it is hard to believe she is the mother of 17 children. She loves children and work and with all her family raised and on their own, she still works and enjoys it.

Nona was born in the Pleasant Valley district between Olive and Blackfalds, Alberta in 1920.

When very young the family moved to south of Lake Wabamun. They were the first white people in the area. Her parents ran the post office and named it Sundance, because the Indians were having a sun dance at the time.

Before the plants were built, Nona says Wabamun whitefish were in demand from places as far away as New York, and sold for $3 a pound.

The family later moved near Entwistle to be nearer a high school. Their home stood where the Entwistle school now stands. Nona says they planted the spruce trees that are across the road from the school, although most of them have since been removed.

Nona was not quite 16 when she married Ervin Combs in 1936. They took over the Combs store at Rocky Rapids. Along with the store they had a lumber yard, planer, several trucks and other equipment.

There was always a baby in the house, Nona said. Until the first child was six or seven, it was hard for her. But after that the older children looked after the little ones.

"I didn't have a hard time and they were happy," she recalls. The babies were only in the high chair for three or four months when the older children had them sitting on the long bench beside the table with them. "There were always six on the bench," said Nona. They got along well together and were all very musical and learned to play the piano.

Nona remembers washing clothes every Monday and Thursday for 36 years. The girls did most of the ironing and everything was ironed and mended before the next wash day.

Nona Ey had 17 children

"We were quite fortunate," continued Nona. "I had the first washer, dryer and freezer in this part of the country." (There was no electricity, but Combs had a DeLo power plant.)

"On Saturday and Sunday I baked bread. I put 20 or 25 pounds of flour in a galvanized tub, made a hole in it, poured in the liquid and yeast and mixed it." Her oven held 20 loaves. Cinnamon rolls were also made for school lunches and treats.

In 1954 the Combs returned from a vacation to find their home and store burned to the ground. They had 11 children at the time and lost everything except the planer, some trucks and equipment, and the few things they had with them on vacation. The building was only partially insured.

Nona is a great-granddaughter of Sir Alexander McKenzie, and one of the treasures she lost in the fire was a valuable brooch he had given his granddaughter and had been passed down to Nona.

Many thousands of dollars that were on the books were never recovered. "We hit rock bottom. My husband burned down with the store; he just couldn't stay together."

They moved into a small house they owned, sold some of the trucks they still had and tried to begin over. Some of the older children had gone out to work and the eldest son was married.

They still had the lumber yard. "But you can't operate without money." And Ervin had lost all interest.

they removed his heel, which also grew back later.

The accident took place May 9, Nona says. "On July 1 that little guy ran in the races at Rocky Rapids and brought home five pins."

Orvin went on to become a Canadian boxing champion, winning the Pan American and British American Games in his weight class. He was later killed in a highway accident.

Another son, Ervin, who was also a champion boxer, was drowned while trying to save a friend.

Six more children were born to the Combs after the tragic fire. One, a 17-month baby girl, was badly hurt when she was accidentally run over by a car that her father and brothers were working on. Her parents thought she was dead; her hair was torn off and her head flattened. She fully recovered from her ordeal and Nona believes that prayer saved her daughter.

Eventually Nona decided to go to work. She drove a school bus at St. Albert for nine months. She sold some land and bought a printing business at the University of Alberta grounds in Edmonton. She lived at Alberta Beach where she had relatives and commuted to work.

She later got a job as janitor of the Treasury Branch in Drayton Valley, so she sold the business, bought a trailer and moved it to her land outside of Rocky Rapids, where she still lives.

However, Nona still had a daughter attending school at Alberta Beach as well as a herd of goats. For three months, until the end of the school term, Nona drove to her job at Drayton Valley and returned to Alberta Beach after midnight to look after her goats and be with her daughter.

Ervin, who was living with family in British Columbia, died in 1982 at the age of 80.

Four years ago, Nona married George Ey. She has 66 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren. "When our family gets together, there are more than 100 of us."

Expenditures of $10,500,000

ATA adopts budget

Delegates to the 70th annual representative assembly of The Alberta Teachers' Association (ATA) adopted a balanced budget calling for total expenditures of $10,500,000 for next year.

The new budget represents about a three per cent reduction from the current budget because of a reduction in the rate of build-up in the association's special emergency reserve. This move also postponed for a year an expected increase in member fees.

The reallocation of $871,900 from the association's special emergency reserve to operating revenues will have the effect of limiting the growth of that reserve fund to the annual consumer price index in future years. This change in the method of allocating funds to the special emergency reserve will maintain that reserve at its value at the end of 1987, adjusted annually for inflation.

"Maintenance of current association programs is the common theme of this budget," stated Arther Cowley, chairman of the finance committee. He went on to say that inflation accounted for most increases but that some new programs were approved.

A pilot project on inservice for administrators, to be operated in conjunction with Athabasca University and the ATA Council on School Administration, is the most significant new program approved this year.

Expected drop in farm receipts

Total farm cash receipts in Alberta are expected to drop about 5.4 per cent in 1987, according to an Alberta Agriculture forecast. Receipts are expected to drop to $3,822 billion because of falling grain revenues, fewer cattle marketings and a moderation in hog prices. The decline would be more severe if not for the estimated $256 million in payments under the Special Canadian Grains Program, and an estimated $362 million in Western Grain

Stabilization program payments. Total operating expenses for the year are forecast to increase 4.4 per cent to $2,537 billion resulting in a 22.4 per cent reduction in net cash income. Realized net income in 1987 is expected to decline by about 39 percent to $478 million, from the record level of 1986. For more information on farm receipts and expenses contact Nishi Govindasamy, at the statistics branch, STAT CAN.

Slave auction to finance trip

Breton auctioneer Norris Lansdell, r, sold the services of PAWS band director Alvin Strand for $200 (four hours of labor) at the recent slave auction. Proceeds will send the band, shown on the left, to Moose Jaw next month. The band is made up of members from Pigeon Lake, Alder Flats and Winfield.

Scholarship offered for disabled artists

The Donna Graham Memorial Scholarship was set up in 1972 after the death of Ms. Graham. She was a severely disabled polio victim who was skilled in mouth painting.

This year, the scholarship for non-professional disabled artists totals $500. Any handicapped Alberta resident with painting skills may apply.

Applications will be accepted until April 24. They should be mailed with two examples of art work and a short biography to: Donna Graham Fund, c/o Canadian Paraplegic Association, 1120 Weber Centre, 5556 Calgary Trail, Edmonton, AB T6H 5P9.

For more information contact Vivian Carson at 438-5046.

Canadians susceptible to MS

Multiple sclerosis. This disease of the central nervous system strikes more young Canadian adults than any other neurological disease. An estimated 60,000 Canadians must cope with the effects of multiple sclerosis every day of their lives.

Canadians are especially susceptible to developing multiple sclerosis because of where we live and where we come from. The disease is more common in temperate climates, less common the closer one lives to the equator. The disease also occurs more often among people of northern European backgrounds, those who make up a large part of Canada's population.

Multiple sclerosis is very much a Canadian disease, and Canadians are in the forefront of trying to rid the world of it. The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada funds well over a million dollars of medical research each year targeted at finding the cause, effective treatment and cure for MS. The society also supports services to assist Canadians who have MS and offers educational programs about MS for health care professionals and the concerned public.

County Ramblings

By Frank Ryan

In the weeks and months to come, watch for our van in your area.

We will be travelling around the area looking for news.

Last Tuesday our first stop was Birchwood Village Greens, formerly the Lindale golf and recreation park.

Maria Zemaitis was busy cleaning up the yard around the clubhouse while husband Don was cleaning out the sewers. Brian Edwards, their new greenskeeper was getting the course in shape.

The course is now open for another season. To book tee off times call 542 3400.

We noticed a lot of truck traffic on Highway 759, a shortcut between highways 39 and 22. All that heavy traffic may have led to a washout close to Tomahawk.

Users of the Agra Centre in Tomahawk have to be pleased with the arrival of better weather. We found their yard almost impossible to get around in the spring due to all the mud. It appears it's time to approach the County of Parkland for some gravel.

At the Tomahawk school, principal Thain Olsen was busy in the gym, teaching some of the youngsters the fine art of basketball.

Out in the hallway, it's an interesting display of grad photos dating back to 1947-48.

Olsen and the school are very proud of their new joint use (community and school) library. It's a credit to the people who are involved. Now, all they need is more users. The library is open Saturday's from noon to 2 p.m. and local residents are urged to use the facility.

Bob Arnold, the CICA morning man, will be the guest speaker at the school's year-end awards June 22. Next month, the students will participate in their annual track and field meet (May 29th).

Names of villages have unique history...

Like the people who reside there, names of towns and villages have a unique history.

They may have been adopted from foreign lands, native Indian tongues or to honor pioneers. However, some were chosen simply for their appealing sound.

What is today known as Drayton Valley was known as Powerhouse until 1920.

Dora and William Drake who ran the post office, named the town after a village in New Hampshire, England. It originates from the Old English dræg which meant a portage where boats were dragged overland to avoid rapids in a river.

The hamlet of Lodgepole was named so because there were a few lodgepole pines growing near the site.

Tomahawk was named by the first settler after Tomahawk, Wisconsin. They came from Ontario and worked in lumber camps in Minnesota and Wisconsin before coming west.

A locality with an easy ford across the Pembina River was appropriately named - Easyford.

The name Caranwood originated from an error as it was intended to be Cornwood, the name of a parish in Devonshire, England.

A hamlet situated on a ridge covered by a heavy growth of poplar trees is today known as Poplar Ridge.

Known as Junkins until 1922, the village became Wildwood after residents considered the name unattractive and circulated a petition.

Charles Lindell, a settler from Kalmar, Sweden arrived in south Edmonton in 1905 and walked to the homestead where he had built a cabin and established a logging camp and later, a post office. He suggested the locality be called Lindell Valley but postal authorities preferred short names and chose Lin dale instead.

The Village of Entwistle was named after James D. Entwistle, originally from Ontario where he had been an engineer on the Grand Trunk railway before coming west in 1905. His son had the first store in the village and hauled freight west by horse and cart.

It was Henry Marshall Erakine Evans of Toronto who came to Edmonton to prospect for coal seams in the Pembina River who gave Evansburg its name. He apparently served as mayor of Edmonton and saved the town from a financial crisis.

Why do so many teenagers who complain there's nothing to do during summer vacation have to stay out so late at night to get it done?

Becker believes consumer should get money's worth

People looking for games of chance and skill turn to John Ambrose Games Inc.

In 1975, John Becker was not your ordinary eighth grader. While most 14 year olds were out terrorizing the neighborhood, Becker was inventing his first board game.

"Endeavor Eleven", his first board game, was put together with glue and cardboard.

Friends and relatives played Endeavor Eleven until it was retired to the shelf for eight years. In November of 1983, Becker pulled out his game and looked at it more seriously. In December 1985, John Ambrose Games was incorporated.

"I'm sorry I didn't put the game out sooner," states Becker. "The market was in need of good games."

Business Feature

Becker proceeded to launch his own marketing and manufacturing plan. He engaged an artist and together they came up with the graphics for the board. The game was printed and distributed to warehouses in Wetaskiwin and Mississauga for distribution to retailers.

"We try to keep money in Alberta. For example, although Endeavor Eleven must be assembled in Ontario, we have it printed in Lacombe," comments Becker. "The only items we purchase outside are the playing pieces."

"We buy the molds and the pieces which are produced in Taiwan."

"People are glad to see a new game on the market. They're tired of Monopoly and Trivial Pursuit," says Becker.

The newly packaged Endeavor Eleven, on the shelves since October 1986, has been a hit. The game was previously sold in a drawstring package but the new box format was developed to make the game more marketable and more suitable for consumer use.

From October through December 1986, the company sold more than 1,400 copies, and sales have been increasing each month for the past six months.

Becker believes strongly that the consumer should get value for his/her money. He has "put a lot of effort" into the game.

"We're trying to compete with the major game companies with 40 different game lines. We want to make sure our consumer is happy," says Becker.

Their biggest obstacles?

"Letting people know we're serious, not some fly-by-night little game company that doesn't know anything."

John Ambrose Games Inc. has made its mark in the game industry. People are taking them seriously. "We've been approached by people to market their games for them," comments Becker.

John Ambrose Games Inc. plans to market other games in the future.

UFA profits

The United Farmers of Alberta held their advisory committee meeting in Drayton Valley recently.

During the meeting delegate Otto Wilken reported that total sales in 1986 were $250.8 million. Petroleum division sales totalled $164.5 million and farm supply sales were $68.3 million. Net earnings of $19.9 million were the highest in the history of the organization.

Wilken also reported the dividend allocation amounted to a total of $15.4 million. Cash payout was an exceptional $15.3 million, or 90 per cent after tax earnings.

Over the last five years $46.3 million has been returned, in cash, to UFA members.

Middle age, says President Ronald Reagan, is when you're faced with two temptations and you choose the one that gets you home by nine o'clock.

Council repeals outdated town bylaws

The 9:30 p.m. curfew was aired on this siren.

Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce 542-7578

Did you know that at one time, stores in Drayton Valley closed Wednesday afternoon?

That bylaw, introduced in April of '65 along with 24 other bylaws, many dating back to when Drayton Valley was a village, were repealed at a recent town council meeting.

Some of the other bylaws that were victims of some housekeeping by the town included the children's night curfew, parking meters, work policy for town employees, early closing bylaw and sports on Sunday.

The shopping hours bylaw stated that every shop had to close Wednesdays at 12:30 p.m. until 7 a.m. the following morning. The only exception was when another holiday happened on a Wednesday.

Shops were also required to close by 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and 9 p.m. Fridays.

According to the parking meter bylaw passed in 1960, it cost one cent for the first 12 minutes and another penny for each additional 12 minutes. If motorists paid by the hour, it was a nickel.

If you didn't plug the meter, the first offence resulted in a $1 fine. It was $2 for the second offence.

No child under the age of 16, without permission, was allowed on the streets after 9:30 p.m. Breach of the bylaw resulted in a fine not exceeding $100 or in default, 30 days in jail.

The siren, which currently sits on the old reservoir, next to the curling rink, sounded daily at 9:30 p.m. to let the children know what time it was.

In January of '70, a bylaw was passed allowing for certain sports after 1:30 p.m. on Sunday's. The bylaw allowed for any game, contest or sport, an exhibition of an educational, artistic or cultural nature, any theatrical performance, concert, recital, lecture or any exhibition of moving pictures. The bylaw did not authorize the providing, engaging in, or attending at a horse race, dog race, boxing contest or exhibition of wrestling or any like exhibition or contest on a Sunday.

WHERE DID IT ALL GO!

A big chunk of it probably went to the government. You can't dodge taxes. But there are a number of legitimate ways to ease the tax bite, while you accumulate money for your future. I can show you how. Give me a call today.

Sharing the road...

With nearly half a million motorcycles, more than 11 million cars and three million trucks registered in Canada, a special part of driving is sharing the road.

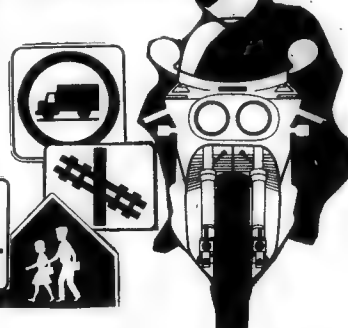

As part of its May 1-7 Summer Safety Week, the Canada Safety Council is providing information on how to share the road safely.

According to Raynald Marchand, national coordinator for the Canada Safety Council's Motorcycle Skills Course, most motorcycle collisions happen at intersections. Usually because the motorist didn't see the oncoming motorcycle or misjudged its approach.

and road conditions will require even more space.

Defensive drivers are aware of road conditions that may present problems to bicyclists and motorcyclists. For example: sand, gravel, water, railway tracks or wet leaves may cause a rider to lose control. In adverse driving conditions always allow plenty of room, slow down and be prepared to stop.

Be courteous when passing a motorcycle. Motorcyclists are entitled to a full lane. "Many motorists don't realize that even when they pass too

Another error commonly made is to crowd motorcycles. "Many people think that because motorcycles are smaller, they require less space on the road. That simply is not true," says Marchand. "In fact, motorcycles require more space around them."

Motorcycles can stop more quickly than most vehicles. When a car is travelling behind a motorcycle a minimum following distance equivalent to three or four seconds is recommended to provide sufficient distance to stop. This is greater than the two-second minimum time interval recommended when a car is following another car.

To check your following distance pick a fixed marker such as a lamp post; when the vehicle ahead passes the marker, count "one thousand and one, one thousand and two, one thousand and three." If you reach the fixed marker before you finish counting, slow down and increase the following distance. Adverse vehicle, light, weather, traffic closely the buffeting created by their windstream may cause the motorcycle to wobble," says Marchand.

"Also, keep in mind that motorcycles or bicycles can easily become hidden in a driver's blind spots," warns Jack Smith, manager of safety training for the Canada Safety Council, "and be alert for motorcyclists and bicyclists who may be riding on the outer edge of your lane when you're making a turn or changing lanes."

This problem becomes even more complex for drivers of buses and trucks. Always check the blind spot first, by taking a quick glance over your shoulder and signal your intention well ahead before changing position on the road.

Enjoy your summer, but pay special heed to those road users who rely on you to share the road. Remember safety is a shared responsibility, gear up for summer. For more information on defensive driving courses or the motorcycle skills course, contact the Canadian Safety Council or your provincial Safety Council/League.

Community happenings

Church of God
On May 24 the youth of the Church of God will be doing a service to the community. Each month one of the arms of the church does a service so May is the Youth's month.

St. Anthony's Parish
The church hopes to move into their new building by May 10.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary
The ladies auxiliary will be serving the supper for the Air Cadets at their annual inspection May 7. They are co-sponsor to the cadets and have always done the supper for the squadron.

Air Cadets
Annual inspection will be held May 7.

The cadets will be holding a campout at Edson where they will be joined by other squadrons, May 8-10.

On May 17 they are going to the city of Saskatchewan to go gliding.

SNAPPER HI-VAC RIDER THE LAWN GROOM.

The SNAPPER Hi-Vac[®] rider makes precision lawn care a snap. In the patented Hi-Vac system, the contoured blade spins in a deep formed deck to create a powerful vacuum. Grass is set up for a smooth, even groom. Clippings and debris are blown into the optional rear-mounted grass catcher.

Hi-Vac riders can also use SNAPPER's exclusive Thatcherizer attachment to clear the lawn bed of harmful dead and decaying material. The Hi-Vac rider vacuums loosened thatch right into the grass catcher.

Other economical options like the Bag-N-Wagon, dozer blade, give SNAPPER Hi-Vac rider four season versatility.

We're Rolling Out The Red Carpet!

AN INVITATION FROM YOUR LOCAL MERCHANTS...

to enjoy a satisfying and enriching shopping experience in the stores that serve you better. You know us. We're your friends and neighbors who live and work beside you in the community you share. That's just one of the many reasons you always can depend on us for better service, superior products and more affordable prices. When you buy locally, it's easier to get a higher return on your shopping dollar. And when you support your local merchants, you benefit the overall economy of the community, helping to keep taxes lower and making it easier to provide good community services. You benefit in other ways, too. When you shop your local merchants' stores, you save valuable time, wear and tear on your car and expensive gasoline costs. Plus, you know you can count on your local merchants to stand behind the products they sell. They gladly guarantee you complete satisfaction on all your purchases or your money refunded. Be a smart spender. Shop locally and save!
